The image shows a screenshot of a web browser displaying a Google search for "dinosaurios". The browser's address bar shows the URL: <https://www.google.es/search?hl=es&site=imghp&tbm=isch&source=hp&biw=1024&bih=...>. The search bar contains the text "dinosaurios". The "Imágenes" tab is selected, and the search results are displayed in a grid format. The first row of results includes:

- Tipos de Dinosaurios: A grid of various dinosaur species.
- Dinosaurios Reales: Images of real dinosaurs, including a T-Rex.
- Dinosaurios Serie: Images of dinosaurs from the Jurassic Park series, including a Triceratops and a T-Rex.

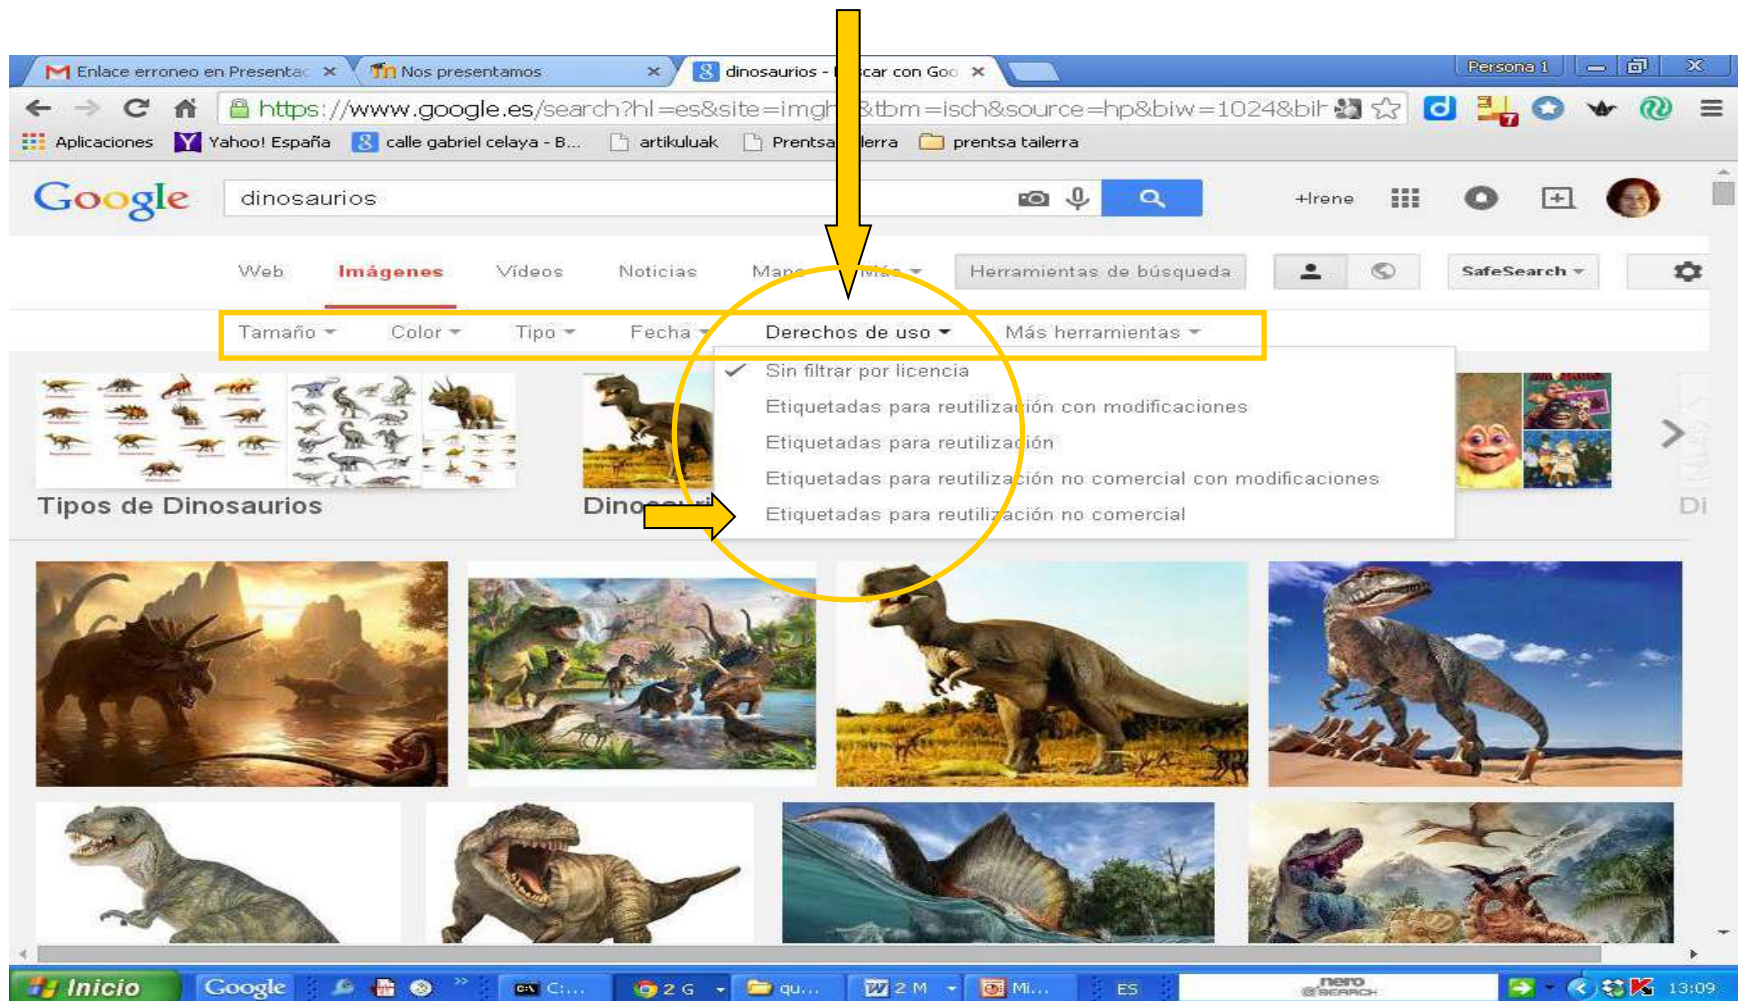

The second row of results shows several large, detailed images of dinosaurs in various environments, including a Triceratops in a sunset landscape, a group of dinosaurs near a river, a T-Rex in a field, and a T-Rex on a beach. The third row shows more detailed images of dinosaurs, including a T-Rex, a Spinosaurus, and a group of dinosaurs in a prehistoric setting.

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the "Inicio" button, the Google search bar, and several open applications. The system tray on the right shows the time as 13:04.

Haced click en “Herramientas de búsqueda”.
Se abre este menú

Haced click en “Derechos de uso”. Por defecto aparece activado “Sin filtrar por licencia”. Escoged la opción “Etiquetadas para reutilización no comercial”.

The image shows a browser window with a Google search for "dinosaurios". The search results are displayed in the "Imágenes" tab. A yellow circle highlights the "Derechos de uso" filter menu, which is open. The menu options are:

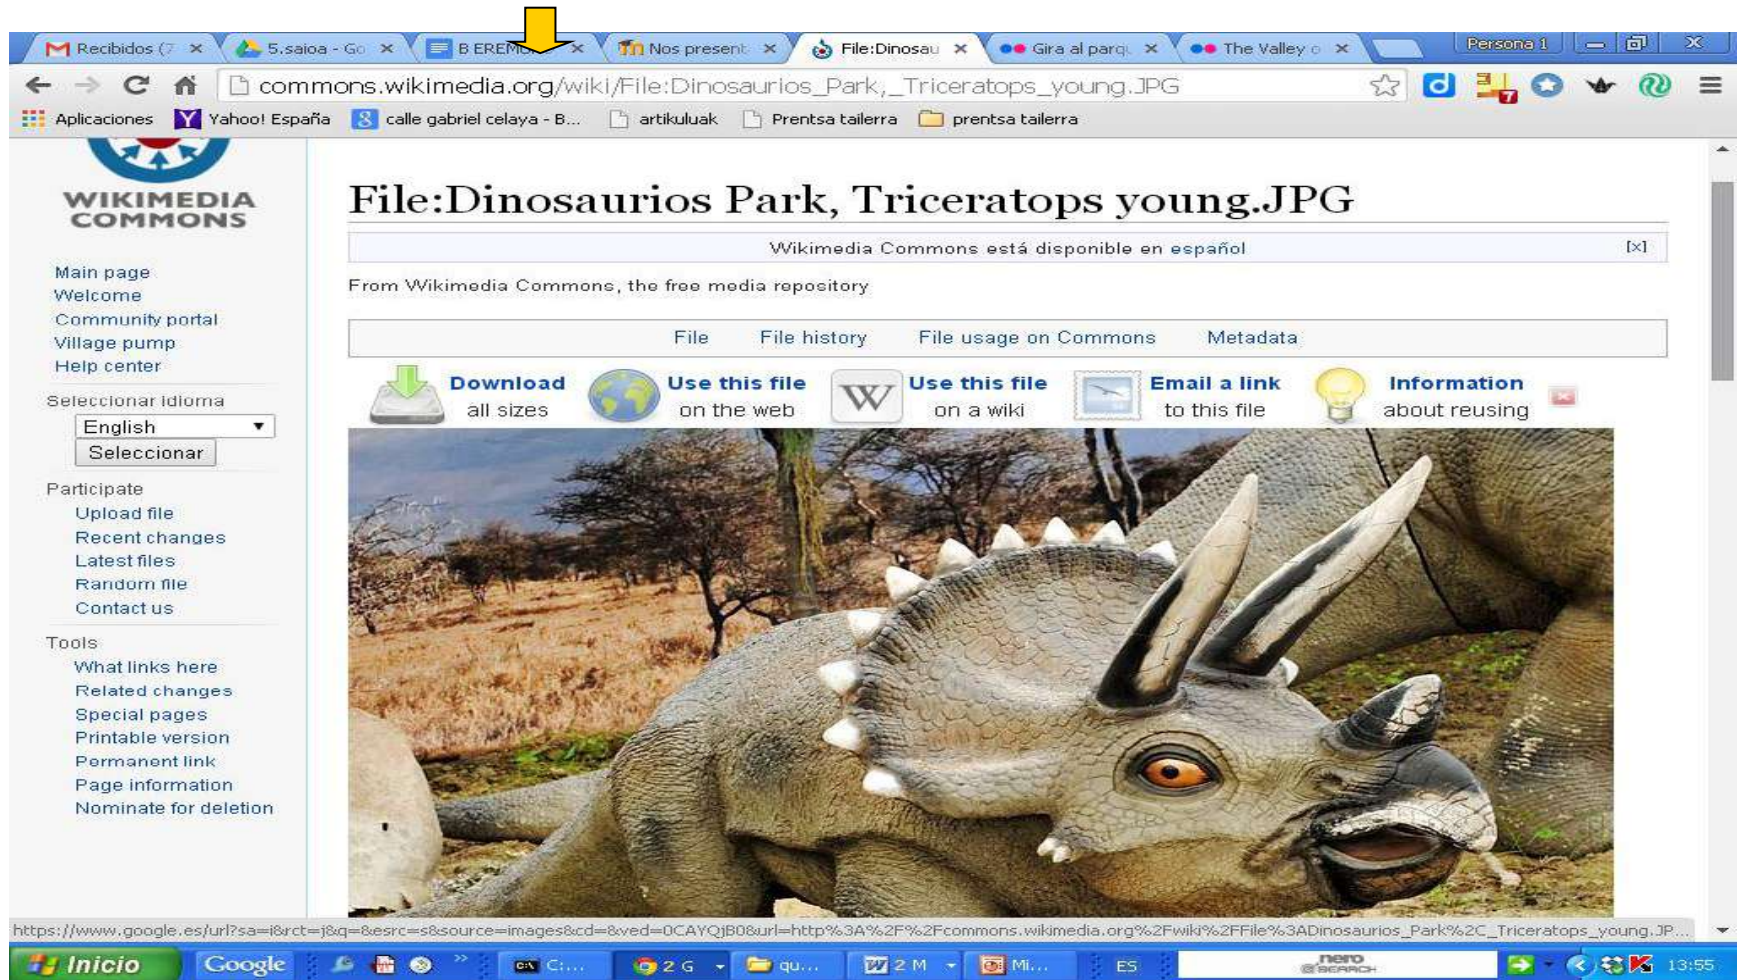

- Sin filtrar por licencia
- Etiquetadas para reutilización con modificaciones
- Etiquetadas para reutilización
- Etiquetadas para reutilización no comercial con modificaciones
- Etiquetadas para reutilización no comercial

A yellow arrow points from the text above to the "Derechos de uso" menu, and another yellow arrow points from the "Etiquetadas para reutilización no comercial" option to the search results area. The search results show various images of dinosaurs, including a Triceratops, a T-Rex, and a Spinosaurus.
